LOIS ON THE LOOSE

Howdy Folks!

So, as you can see, I've finally joined the 21st Century, stowed away my quill and parchment, and got to grips with some fancy email shenanigans. I've sent this to you because we have exchanged emails in the past about bikes or books or adventures but if you would prefer not to receive my occasional ramblings please click on the 'unsubscribe' link below. No questions asked!

The Adventure Travel Film Festival cometh!

This is my new venture and one that I am super excited about! My husband Austin and I were discovering so many amazing adventure travel films, old and new, that weren't getting shown on TV that we thought, sod it, let's start a film festival and show the world what's really out there. And lo, The Adventure Travel Film Festival was born. We launched it last year in the USA as part of the Overland Expo and the good news is that next year we go INTERNATIONAL BABY! Yes, in June 2011 the festival comes home to Blighty. It's taking place in the luvverly countryside of North Devon and is shaping up to be an awesome event with some incredible films, including some that have never been shown in the UK before. There's plenty of other fun stuff going on too and of course a big ol' campfire to sit around at the end of the night. Check out the website and please come along and join in the party.

Other Cool Stuff...

Headin' Stateside!

I am very excited to be returning to the US in Spring 2011 to be taking part in the Overland Expo again. I will be in the States for six weeks during March and April giving presentations in various locations. So, American cousins, if you would like me to come and speak to your club, business, school, prison, AA meeting, quilting group etc please send me an email.

Ural USA

Last summer we had a fabulous trip crossing the US on this lil' beauty... Click on the pic to watch our short film.

It's a Ural 750 Patrol and if you've never tried a sidecar outfit I cannot recommend it highly enough. Serious fun! You can read all about our 3-wheeled scrapes in the latest issue of Overland Journal

Things are pretty rockin' as usual here in London Town. I'm still riding around on my TTR250 that I rode through Africa but my XT500 needs a little TLC after I made the mistake of lending it to my beloved husband. I'm keeping busy giving presentations around the country and doing the usual journalism, and I'm delighted to be writing a regular column for a fab new adventure motorcycling magazine in the US called Outrider Journal. The first issue hits the shelves (or indeed, the doormat) in March next year and it's just what the doc ordered - a quality publication for the thinking adventure rider - yes, that's you!

That's all for now...

Hopefully see you out there somewhere. Keep on rockin' in the free world!

Lois
